

CLOSING OF GRAIN EXCHANGES URGED IN SENATE

REVOLUTIONISTS OCCUPIED SANTO DOMINGO TODAY

Occupation Of the Capital City Effected Without Bloodshed

BULLETIN

Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—There are good prospects of an agreement between rebels and the Dominican government. United States Minister Charles B. Curtis informed the State Department today.

John M. Cabot, the 28-year-old Secretary of the American Legation, who was entrusted with the delicate diplomatic task of bringing together the two opposing factions, has returned to Santo Domingo with a proposal from the rebel leaders. Curtis advised.

Both the rebels and government supporters, Curtis added, have shown "every disposition to respect American lives and property."

By HARRY W. FRANTZ

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Revolutionary forces entered Santo Domingo at dawn today and occupied the city.

They made no effort to take the fort upon their entrance. Heavy rifle firing in the Central Plaza at 6 A. M. signaled the attack on the city, but casualties are believed to be few.

The insurrectionist force is estimated at about 2,000. They were armed with rifles, but were not uniformed.

Gen. Juan Estrella, commanding the revolutionary army as representative of the rebel leader, General Estrella Ure, drove to the presidential palace and met United States Minister Charles B. Curtis and President Horacio Vasquez, whose resignation has been demanded by the revolutionaries. The three went inside and conferred for half an hour in an attempt to settle the political uprising without bloodshed.

Conferees in U. S. Legation. Later Estrella and Curtis departed and went to the American legation where they continued their conversation.

Three gunners who were part of the government's forces in the northern district, where the revolt originated, were reported killed. The revolutionists took over the Public Works Department and the Central police station.

They seized other strategic points. The regular army appeared to be submitting to the occupation without resistance in the Capital but the sound of cannon firing at a distance could be heard.

General Jose Estrella, who is commanding the revolutionary army, led his forces into the city.

After the occupation of the capital he visited United States Minister Curtis at the American Legation and assured him that the lives and property of United States citizens will be protected.

To Maintain Order. General Estrella, who announced that he represented the chief rebel leader, said he intended to maintain order in the Capital. He told the press that he was confident he had the situation under control.

General Ure is now at Santiago he said. The American Legation was not molested by the revolutionary army nor was the presidential mansion invaded.

Last night the President received a United Press correspondent at the palace. Madame Vasquez spent the night at the American legation.

The military phase of the revolution appeared to have been successfully accomplished at 9 A. M. The government troops did not resist the occupation of the Capital, and the public apparently accepted the change in government as a fact, considering the resignation of Vasquez as inevitable.

Vice-President Resigns. The President was understood to be in the Capital but reports that he had resigned could not be confirmed. Vice-President Jose D. Alfonseca told the United Press he had definitely resigned his office.

The revolutionists paraded through the streets and the soldiers of the government mingled with them. Peasants in ragged blue denim field clothes and slouch felt hats patrolled the municipal plaza in the center of the city. They carried rifles on their shoulders.

The friendly attitude which rebel troops showed for the soldiers in Santo Domingo and the absence of serious casualties in the uprising tended to confirm reports that there was an understanding between the army and the revolutionaries.

Vice President Alfonseca appeared to be the chief foe of the revolutionists and he was given refuge at the French legation as a personal friend of the Minister. Alfonseca said he understood that President Vasquez was negotiating with the rebel leader.

CHICAGO TURNS DOWN OFFERS OF OUTSIDERS NOW

Own Resources to Pull City Out Of Financial Troubles

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Chicago turned down offers of outside help today and decided its own resources could pull the city out of its financial distress.

Although the coffers of the campaign to restore the city's credit were enriched yesterday by only $5,955,000 of the $74,000,000 goal, Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust Company and head of the drive, refused proffers of two New York City and one Detroit bank to buy some of Chicago's taxpayer's trust certificates.

The banks notified Clarke that they believed purchase of the certificates would be a good investment. "Their offers were declined," Clarke said. "Chicago should and must reestablish its own credit. When we have done that, there will be a renewal of the demand for local government securities. We will do this job by ourselves and are not interested in the help offered now by others."

Clarke was optimistic despite the small amount obtained in yesterday's drive. He explained that many more subscriptions were signed which would bring the day's receipts up to $11,000,000, but that some of the 23 committees had failed to report. Clarke said that not a single large corporation has refused to participate in the taxpayer's trust, thus far.

In two days the committees have collected $20,350,000, or 27.5 per cent of the $74,000,000 goal. Subscriptions, which have been signed but not collected, would almost double the amount already collected, officials of the drive estimated.

Supt. of Brown Shoe Co. Returns Home

Superintendent W. H. Zwilling of the Dixon plant of the Brown Shoe company has returned from a conference held at the main offices at St. Louis. Superintendent Zwilling stated to a Telegraph representative today that the immediate prospects for the Dixon plant indicated about a three-quarter capacity output of high grade women's shoes which are now being built here, or approximately 2000 pairs daily. Superintendent Zwilling stated that he knew of no rumor of the sale of the Dixon plant to another shoe manufacturing firm.

Two Bomb Makers Of Chicago Convicted

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Bomb case convictions, which have been rare in comparison with the high number of bombings, had two added to their number last night. A jury convicted Michael Casselli and Steve Ficke on charges of manufacturing and selling bombs.

Judge William N. Gemmill pronounced the maximum penalty of five to 25 years imprisonment. When he left the court room for home he was escorted by a police guard.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT WEAKER; LOSING GROUND

Today's Bulletin From the Doctors Indicates Death Is Near

Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—The condition of former Chief Justice Taft is more serious than at any time since he returned here from Asheville, three weeks ago, his physicians said in a statement issued shortly before noon today.

"The former Chief Justice is not so well as yesterday. He is gradually growing weaker. He suffers no pain, but his condition is more serious than at any time."

The statement was signed by Drs. Thomas A. Clayton and Francis R. Hagner, who have attended Mr. Taft since the beginning of his present illness.

In a statement issued after their visit today, Dr. Hagner and Dr. Thomas A. Clayton said Mr. Taft is gradually growing weaker and his condition is more serious than at any time, though he suffers no pain.

May Linger Several Days. The former head of the Supreme Court may linger for several days, or death may come sooner.

Friends became alarmed when he failed to show improvement a few days ago, after he had rallied from the weakened condition in which he returned here a month ago from Asheville, N. C., where he went in a vain effort to regain his strength.

The first indication that the former President and Chief Justice would lose his valiant fight for his life came only a few hours after his place at the head of the Supreme Court was filled Monday by Charles Evans Hughes.

The former Chief Justice is suffering from Arterio-sclerosis and recurrence of an old bladder ailment. His heart is in a very weakened condition from his long fight against a general breakdown of his system.

His condition also was aggravated by the death of his brother, Charles P. Taft, in Cincinnati several weeks ago. Mr. Taft was forced to give up his duties on the Supreme bench soon after his return from the funeral. He went into a hospital here for a week, and then took the trip to Asheville, with Mrs. Taft, remaining there three weeks.

Relatives have been here from time to time since Mr. Taft returned from Asheville. Mrs. Robert A. Taft, daughter-in-law of the former Chief Justice, left here last night after a visit over the week-end. Mrs. Helen Taft Manning, his daughter, also was here over the week-end.

His brother, Horace D. Taft, head of a preparatory school in Connecticut, was here several days ago, and the sons, Charles P. Taft and Robert A. Taft, have visited here for brief periods since the return from Asheville.

Mellon Wants Time To Study New Plans

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon wrote the House Banking committee today that in his opinion branch banking was sounder than chain or group banking, "but that even branch banking should be limited to definite economic areas."

"As to what those economic areas should be," said the Treasury head's letter, "I am not prepared to state at this time without further study or thought."

Mellon was to have appeared as the second witness in the committee's study of the nation's banking structure, but he said he would prefer not to testify until he had opportunity "to study the facts which I hope your committee will develop."

"May I add," he wrote, "that I think it fortunate that your committee has undertaken this study at this time, and that I am confident that much good will be derived from a careful ascertainment of all the facts in connection with the movement which has been proceeding with great rapidity in the banking field."

Rome, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Cardinal Merry Del Val, former Papal Secretary of State and in recent years Arch Priest of St. Peters, died today from heart failure after an operation for appendicitis.

The Cardinal, who was 65, was stricken suddenly ill yesterday and grew worse during the night. Finally an operation was deemed necessary and this was performed by Prof. Bastianelli. The Cardinal was resting comfortably this afternoon but was suddenly stricken when his heart failed.

BUTLER ATTACKS DRY AMENDMENT AS "INVASION"

Wrote House Judiciary Committee Against Prohibition

BULLETIN

Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—President Hoover, Attorney General Mitchell and the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission are among those who have joined in "unusual violations of constitutional rights" in connection with prohibition enforcement. It was charged before the House Judiciary committee hearing on bills to repeal or modify the dry law, today.

Rev. John Ryan, Catholic University Sociologist, who made the charge, also told the committee he did not believe there was a duty of conscience on the citizen to obey the prohibition law.

By PAUL R. MALLON

United Press Staff Correspondent Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—The 18th amendment is "an impertinent invasion of the constitution and in no sense an amendment to it," Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, told the House Judiciary committee today in a letter.

Butler, an outspoken opponent of prohibition, demanded repeal before the government starts to deal with the liquor problem.

The document from Butler was read as the wet opened the final two days of presentation of their case at the committee's hearing on proposals to modify or repeal the dry law.

It came as Dr. Francis J. Gorty, head of the Chicago Psychopathic Hospital, testified that alcoholic cases in his hospital were on the increase.

Explaining that his position would be the same if the subject were wheat, corn or meat products, Butler told the committee.

"There is no difficulty in dealing with the social problems which arise from liquor and the liquor traffic, if one really wishes to deal with them intelligently."

"The Scandinavian people and those of the Province of Quebec have shown how this can be done to the aid and promotion of the cause of temperance and the true protection of civil and political liberty."

"We must get back to the Constitution of the United States first, by taking the so-called 18th amendment out of it. Then we can deal with the liquor problem as we were helpfully and hopefully dealing with it when this blow struck 10 years ago."

"With the 18th amendment repealed, the state laws regarding the liquor traffic as these existed in 1920 would again come into force."

The statutes controlling interstate commerce in alcoholic liquor would again become operative.

"In the state of New York we should have ready for action by our legislature a carefully drawn act adapting to our state's conditions and political system the principles of the liquor control system which prevails so effectively in our neighbor, the Province of Quebec."

Gorty's figures showed that deaths from alcoholism coming to his attention had dropped from 160 in 1917 to 20 in 1920, but that the figure increased to 208 in 1929.

Alcohol cases treated at the hospital averaged 441 in pre-prohibition days and 985 since prohibition, the physician testified. He did not attempt to speculate upon his figures, except to point out that since prohibition they included much younger people than before.

The witness said there were 58 female alcoholics in his hospital in 1916, 25 in 1920, 137 in 1923, 139 in 1927 and 143 in 1929.

Wet and dry members of the committee decided before the hearing to bar all petitions for the present. The ban fell upon a resolution of the Texas W. C. T. U. forwarded to the committee by Senator Sheppard, Dem., Tex., author of the 18th amendment.

The committee action also prevented insertion of a newspaper article offered by Chairman Graham showing one 13-year-old and three sixteen-year-old boys of a Kansas City school had set up a speakeasy with stolen liquor.

Band Is Organized At St. Mary's School

The band of thirty pieces recently organized at St. Mary's school is making remarkable progress under the capable direction of Mr. Van Voorst, an organizer and director of bands for Lyon & Healy, Chicago. Many who have heard the children play marvel at the purity of tone and the ease with which they handle their instruments.

A drive for funds has been inaugurated. It is hoped that those interested in the future success of the band will be generous in their patronage of this worthy cause. Several prizes are offered to the children bringing in the greatest returns. The first of these is a Columbia bicycle. Help the cause!

CHICAGO POLICE PREPARED TODAY FOR COMMUNISTS

All Ready For the Widely Announced March On City Building

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Radicals who assembled today for a widely announced march on the City Hall, found 100 policemen and two Deputy Commissioners interested spectators to their fiery anti-capitalistic speeches and another group of police loafing around the city hall waiting for the demonstration.

About 200 radicals, calling themselves Communists, met shortly before noon in their headquarters on Halsted street, west of the loop and began their "build up" speeches preparatory to the march.

Five girls, who led the jeering as the police went into the meeting, were arrested and two of their masculine aides also were hauled away in a patrol wagon.

John Stege, Deputy Commissioner, who listened to the speeches against capitalism and advocating "jobs for everybody," said when the speakers finished he would lock the doors and arrest everyone who could not give a good account of himself. Aliens will be turned over to immigration authorities, Stege said.

Police Prepared Meanwhile, police guarded bridges across the Chicago river over which the "Communists" would have to march to get to the city hall.

There were 50 or more police, many of them mounted and armed with flexible banana stalks, and a unit of the fire department with hose unreeled, awaited the march, if any.

The police soon worked out an efficient system of harassing the "Communists." As speakers finished their harangues, they were whisked to Commissioner Stege, who questioned them, passed along to Commissioner Mooney, who did likewise, and thence down the line of six captains, who asked whatever questions Stege and Mooney had forgotten. At the end of the "questioning gauntlet" two patrol wagons awaited those who couldn't talk themselves out of trouble.

After an hour of this impromptu "court" 15 men and five women had been hauled away to the station, including Irving Herman, 19, who said he was president of the "Young Peoples' Communist Party," and Paul Cline, who insisted he was a representative of the Russian Soviet.

The crowd, listening to the apparently never-ending series of speeches, grew to about 350 shortly after noon with women and girls liberally sprinkled in the crowd.

"Voluntary" Fund To Help Band Desired

Requests for financial aid in campaign to secure funds for the Dixon Boys' Band were received by many in Dixon today. Appeals for funds have been sent out through the mails by the committee, composed of Oliver M. Rogers, J. L. Glassburn and L. E. Jacobsen, and it is hoped that these will meet with an immediate response. Subscriptions toward the band campaign may be deposited at either of the banks and will be turned over to the committee in charge.

The continued interest by the boys comprising the band membership and their leader is most encouraging. Rehearsals have been conducted weekly, in which between 30 and 35 boys have participated. It is planned to begin a series of summer concerts early in June and it is necessary that a fund be made available at once for the purchase of new music and for the financing of the organization.

There will be many citizens who are interested in the boys' band who will not receive the circular letter which was mailed today, and who will desire to subscribe to this worthy fund. These may leave their subscriptions at either of the banks.

It is the plan of the committee to make the campaign for funds a voluntary one and it is hoped that a sufficient amount may be realized by this method. Instead of selecting committees and sending them out to solicit funds, it has been deemed advisable to try the plan which was launched this morning, and by quick response the annual appeal for funds should be closed within one week and a fund sufficient for the financing of the band be realized.

PERMIT TO I. N. U. TO DREDGE ROCK RIVER RECEIVED

Placed On File In City Clerk Grover's Office For Present

The permit issued from the Rock Island office of Major Hall of the War Department, authorizing the Illinois Northern Utilities Company to proceed with a dredging program in Rock River here this season, has been received at the office of City Clerk Blake C. Grover, where it is on file. The council took no action last evening, choosing to secure additional information relating to the project. Marine engineers will explain to the council the effect of the proposed improvement under low water conditions, it was decided.

The improvement of the streets in the down town business section was again presented to the council for discussion last evening. Mayor Frank D. Palmer was not in favor with proceeding at once with the resurfacing of the brick paving with an asphaltic substance. It was the Mayor's plan to have indentations in the streets filled and all connections with the new storm water system completed before undertaking the improvement suggested.

The board of local improvements passed ordinances No 248 and 249 providing respectively for the paving of the alley between College and Van Buren Avenues and between Third and Fourth Streets and the improving of several blocks on Highland Avenue from Fifth to Sixth Streets, and east on Fifth street from Highland to Dement Avenue with concrete paving.

Claims amounting to $2,200 representing the final settlements for disputed property on North Peoria Avenue, were presented to the council and ordered paid.

FEAR GANGLAND RETALIATION IN KIDNAPING CASE

Granite City Officer Who Furnished Tip Faces Danger

St. Louis, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Gangland's retaliation was feared today for Louis Reimler, Granite City, Ill., policeman, whose tip in the kidnaping of Charles W. Pershall, wealthy Granite City chain grocer and banker, led to the arrest of an ex-convict and the go-between. Pershall's family was reported to have paid $40,000 for the banker's release.

Chief of Police Ross Johnson of Granite City revealed his apprehensions for the safety of Reimler, following the accusing of a steel worker by three men, who demanded the policeman's address. Another workman substantiated the appearance of the mud-spattered automobile with its license plates incriminated beyond legitimacy. Johnson declared the trio are members of the gang which held Pershall a captive for two days.

The attitude of the Pershall family also drew comment from Chief Johnson, who said he was irritated to the point where he was ready to summon them for questioning. He said they had persistently denied police an opportunity to learn details of the ransom payment.

Chief of Detectives Kaiser of St. Louis turned over to Johnson late yesterday the confession of George O. Blockburger, Granite City professional bondsman, who acted as the go-between the Pershall family and the gangsters. Blockburger was arrested here Sunday on Reimler's tip when he was waiting to meet Herman Tipton, ex-convict and "Cuckoo" gangster. Both men have been released on $25,000 bond.

The barbers have also arranged for Thursday afternoon closing for the summer months and will close their shops at noon on Thursdays during June, July and August.

Goodman carried only a nickel.

ACTIVITIES IN PRESENT BREAK WILL BE PROBED

Sec. Hyde Is Called Upon To Furnish Data: Prices Rise

Washington, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde today was called upon through a Senate resolution to report on activities of grain and cotton speculators and advisability of closing the grain and cotton exchanges.

The resolution was adopted by the Senate after several members had discussed the sudden break in wheat prices which yesterday shot that grain down to below $1 a bushel for the first time in many months. The resolution was introduced by Senator Heflin, Dem., Ala., opening a general debate of the current prices of cotton and grain.

In the debate Senator Nye, Rep., N. D., charged a conspiracy exists among private grain elevator operators to discredit the Farm Board by depressing the

Illinois Miners Offer Compromise

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Offering to compromise with the regular organization of the United Mine Workers of America, and enter an international convention in which all factions would be represented, officials of the Illinois Mine Workers today announced eight conditions upon which their co-operation would be conditioned.

Meantime, an official statement said, "preparations for the reorganization convention in Springfield, Ill., will proceed."

"In the event that the Indianapolis gathering accepts the terms and expresses its willingness for a convention in which the rank and file can determine its own future without the menace of coercion, fake delegates and bodily violence, a joint committee of both gatherings may than arrange for a convention either in Indianapolis, Springfield or some neutral point."

Boys Put On Dance
Act For The Judge

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The little Gaudsmith brothers, Kenneth, 9, and Adolph, 7, put on a song and dance act before Circuit Court Judge Lynch yesterday, and won their plea to remain with their mother. Their father, Henry Gaudsmith, an acrobat, had petitioned for their custody, saying their education was being neglected.

It was to show how well their mother had trained them that the boys put on their act. Judge Lynch inquired of them and refused the father's request. He suggested, however, that Mrs. Gaudsmith, formerly a professional dancer, move here from New York so that the children might be nearer their father.

Seek "Fire Bug"

Robinson, Ill., Feb. 26.—(UP)—Sheriff C. H. Wallace began an investigation today of several fires in this neighborhood recently after an attempt to burn down the farm home of William Vernia yesterday.
Kerosene was poured over the back porch of the Vernia home, but the fire was confined to the porch. Several empty bottles bearing the odor of kerosene were found near the house.
The farm home of Clara McGahey, a neighbor of Vernia, was completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin three days ago.
Authorities believe that a "fire bug" may be responsible for the other mysterious fires within the past few weeks.

Indiana Governor
Hits At Pacifists

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 26.—(UP)—Professional pacifists from the east were charged by Gov. Harry G. Leslie of Indiana today as being behind the movement "to wreck the Reserve Officers Training Corps."

Leslie charged that Frederick Libby headed the movement, which, he said, sought to wage its battle through campus publications. The Governor's declaration followed an editorial published in the official campus organ of the University of Indiana, in which compulsory military training in college was denounced.

As Governor, Leslie is Chairman of the Board of Visitors of the University. He was Alumni Secretary of Purdue University for a time, when he said, "the pacifists didn't get by with their propaganda in the alumni publications."

"How absurd it is to charge that American colleges are militaristic when they have training but a few hours a week," he said. "There is no danger of Prussianism or military Robots."

He added that the country should have learned from the World War that many lives would be saved during wars if countries were prepared for conflicts.

The Daily Student based its stand on the fact that when President Woodrow Wilson signed the draft law he did not clear that the government did not regard the law as necessary, but merely more fair to the citizenry.

N. Y. Communists Riot

New York, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Police and Communists battled through the Wall Street district today while thousands of office workers hung from skyscraper windows cheering as if they were attending an intercollegiate football game.

The demonstration, organized by the Communists in celebration of the release of John Porter who had served 18 months on Governor's Island as a deserter from the Army, started at the Battery. About 1300 police had been sent there when headquarters received reports that the Communists were planning a parade.

Although Porter, a former textile strike leader at New Bedford, Mass., was released from Governor's Island before dawn, the demonstration did not start until four hours later.

Installs Alarm

Mrs. Jay Sipe of the Marylin shop, has had her place of business on First street, equipped with the latest type of electric burglar alarm system. All of the doors and windows in the ladies ready-to-wear shop have been connected up to the system. Almost invisible copper wires connect to the alarm which is a heavy brass gong which begins ringing when the wires are disturbed and which can be heard for many blocks.
A wire protecting a door or window may be cut, but this does not render the circuit incapable of sounding the alarm. When the switch throws the system into action, a fly lighting on one of the wires will start the alarm, so responsive is the mechanism. The system is the latest development of the Bellman burglar alarm for commercial purposes and is the first to be installed in a local merchandising establishment.

Kraettli, former president of the Kansas City Board of Trade, declared today.
Kraettli, an authority on grain marketing in the southwest, said "thousands of persons ignorant of the grain business, had speculated heavily and then become unlicked and unloaded when they feared the government would not sustain it policy."

"Thousands of persons inspired by the reports of the government representatives," Kraettli said, "speculated on the market believing reports of government agents who said it would be only a matter of time until wheat began to climb."

"When foreign interests did not begin to buy the American surplus or the Canadian surplus, which was offered even lower than American wheat, many thousands of buyers were routed. Conditions became still worse when foreign buyers ignored the South American crop."

Dr. Snook lost his final appeal in the courts yesterday when the United States Supreme Court rejected his application for a review. Attorney Ricketts is carrying the case to the Governor and the clemency board for a review of the evidence in an effort to obtain commutation of the death sentence.

No 'Uncle Tom' Show Anywhere In States

BY HENRY MINOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

Belmont, Mass.—(UP)—Little Eva, who made 100 trips to Heaven on a telegraph wire back in 1852, has vanished from the American stage.

Last week, in New York, the Actors' Equity Association announced that for the first time in 78 years, not a single theatrical company is playing "Uncle Tom's Cabin" anywhere in the United States.

Most newspaper readers probably skimmed this story and then allowed their eyes to wander to other columns; but a charming little lady who lives in a big yellow house in this Boston suburb read and re-read the equity's announcement.

Her memory carried her back to that notable night of September 27, 1852, when, as Cordelia Howard, "the wonder of the age," she played the role of Little Eva in the premiere of the dramatic version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," or "Life Among the Lowly."

Was Four Years Old.
She was only four-years-old then. Today, at 82, she looks younger than she is and feels younger than she looks. She has that charm of graceful age that reminds you of lavender and old lace.

It was in the Old Museum of Troy, N. Y., that Little Eva, in the form of Cordelia Howard, made her first trip to Heaven—a journey which was destined to bring tears to the eyes of millions of theater-goers during more than three quarters of a century.

The show was a big success and ran for 100 nights, making it the "Able's Irish Rose" of its day. Cordelia remained as Little Eva until

Winter Menus Should Provide Place For Many Different Kinds of Salads

By CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef,
Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue,
New York City

DURING the winter months, hot dishes naturally hold the chief place on the menu. Cold meats and cold soups give way to steam-heated roasts and soups that provide warmth as well as satisfaction for the demands of the appetite. The salad is the one cold dish that holds, or should hold, its own when icy blasts are substituted for the torrid breezes of the dog days.

The reasons for the never-failing popularity of the salad are not far to seek. With fresh vegetables scarce and expensive, salads are an important source of the mineral salts and vitamins which are essential to good health. Further, the salad never becomes monotonous, for an easily achieved variation in the dressing is all that is required to give it a new and pleasing flavor that will appeal to the most exacting epicure.

CHEF SCOTTO

she outgrew the role at 12.

"What is the principal difference you note between the original version of the play and the modern productions," the original Little Eva was asked.

Had No Bloodhounds.
She pondered. "In the more recent versions they usually have bloodhounds chasing Eliza across the ice. In the original version there were no bloodhounds, no dogs of any kind. There wasn't even any imitation dog barking from the wings. The bloodhound idea was introduced later for melodramatic effect."

In the original version, it was pointed out, the only reference to dogs was when Simon Legree discovered that Emmeline, the guard-room slave, and Cassey, "the distracted," had fled. Then, Legree exclaimed: "Boiled by the Lord, call out the dogs! saddle my horse!"

Asked is "Uncle Tom's Cabin," in her opinion, had at last lost the magic spell it held so many years over American theater-goers, she said: "Goodness, no! It won't be long before another company will start out on the road, bloodhounds and all."

D. H. S. Dramatic Club Entertained

(By Robert Lesage)
The dramatic club of the Dixon High School met last evening in the public speaking room for the third time this year. The minutes of the last meeting were read by their very able secretary, Merna Suter, which were followed by two very delightful one-act plays.

The first performance "Enter the Hero" was of a love young girl who was in love with a young man who would pay no attention to her. Writing him letters and getting no reply she answered them herself and showed the false letters to her friends. On inviting him to her house and breaking the suggestion of engagement he informs her he is already engaged to a girl in Brazil. The play ends with his departure and her writing him a letter asking his forgiveness. The cast was as follows:

Enter The Hero
Harold Lawson ... Douglas Curran
Mrs. Carrey ... Dorothy Tourtellot
Ruth Carrey ... Katherine Whitmore
Ann Carrey ... Hattie Zaleski
Director: Mrs. Lazier.
The closing performance was "Playing With Fire." It is about a bashful and blushing girl in love with a young man named Danny. Madge, the girl, receives much advice

Roquefort Dressing is a delightful departure from the usual, and is delicious on firm heads of lettuce, quartered or cut in eighths according to size. Mix together six tablespoons olive oil, two tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, a dash of sugar and cayenne, and one-quarter cup of crumbled Roquefort cheese. Beat until entirely smooth.

Sour Cream Dressing—Mix together one tablespoon flour, one-half teaspoon dry mustard, one tablespoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and one-half cup vinegar. Stir until smooth. Add one cup sour cream. Place over fire in a double boiler and stir until it begins to boil. Then remove from the fire immediately. Milk may be used instead of cream, in which case add two tablespoons of olive oil. This makes a very good dressing for cabbage or cucumbers.

Spicy Salad Dressing—Mix together one-half cup vinegar, two tablespoons olive oil, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, a dash of paprika, one teaspoon minced onion, two tablespoons minced celery and two tablespoons minced sweet pepper. Chill for several hours. The best thoroughly and serve with lettuce in a bowl which has been lightly rubbed with garlic.

from Nora, the maid, and on her lover's arrival tries to test his love for her. She shows him an envelope containing thousands of dollars worth of bonds and asks him if he loves her. She receives the natural reply and goes over to the kitchen stove and burns the envelope containing the supposed bonds. He of course is horror stricken over such an act but still insists he loves her. She then brings forth the real envelope and instead of being glad he is mad that she didn't trust him. He forces her to throw the real envelope in the stove. They then go off to get married and it turns out that there was no fire in the stove and Nora removes the envelope. The play was cast as follows:

Playing With Fire.
Madge ... Charlotte Brooks
Nora ... Myra Alice Warner
Danny ... Edward Nagle
Director: Miss Conley.
The club intends to keep up its good work and have more plays in the future. Not too much praise can be given the teachers, who direct these plays and help develop the poise of the students.

Reading Circle's Banquet, Program On Friday Evening

On Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock the Thursday Reading Circle will enjoy their annual banquet at the Christian church, the banquet to be followed by a delightful musical program. The program is in charge of Mrs. Robert Anderson and she announces that County Superintendent L. W. Miller will give an address on his trip to the south last year, and of his stay in Florida. There will be also on the program several trios by Mesdames Bishop and Morrill and Miss Ora Floto; a piano solo by Mrs. Roy Scholl; a reading by Mrs. Henry Hintz; solos by Mrs. Lee Read, and also by Robert Anderson, if he is in town on that evening. All members are anticipating an evening of much enjoyment.

Famous Ballet in LaSalle March 3rd

The famous Pavlov-Oursky Ballet under the auspices of the Civic Music Association, will appear in La Salle at the high school on the evening of Monday, March 3. The musicians accompanying the ballet are from the Chicago Symphony orchestra, so something of a very high order in the way of entertainment may be expected. Members of the Dixon Music Association are eligible to attend this concert and revue, and no doubt from expressions heard, quite a large number will attend the performance in LaSalle on March 3.

But Mme. Violette, Convention Continues Rule Women's Lives!!

By PRINCESS ALI FAZIL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
Paris, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Madame Violette Morris went into court today to uphold the right of women to wear pants, to swear if they want to, and of course to smoke.

She is suing the French Federation of Feminine Sports for 100,000 francs because they refused her a license as an amateur racer, on the ground of her unfeminine ideas of dress and conduct.

Mme. Morris appeared in the Third Chamber for the start of her suit wearing men's clothes, as usual, a fl smoking endlessly. She is an amateur racer, athlete and hockey player. Her oldest friends cannot remember her wearing skirts.

Last year, when the Federation refused her license, it sent her a stiff note, stressing three reasons why her license was refused:

"1. The style of dress you affect when you come into the offices of the Federation, despite repeated warnings.

"2. Your activities to obtain favors from newspaper reporters, sports writers and sports judges.

"3. Your language and your way of acting, which has been severely criticized where your presence has been tolerated."

Mme. Morris doesn't deny that she likes strong language. As the granddaughter of a General, she was raised in Army barracks. She smokes a pipe.

"The situation is paradoxical," she said. "They criticize me in the name of decency because I cover my legs with pantaloons, yet look out there in the audience and count the women's knees you can."

Miss Alter Bride Of Vincent Prescott

At 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage of Bethel U. E. church Miss Alice Alter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alter, became the bride of Vincent Prescott, son of Mrs. Anna Prescott, Rev. Paul Gordon performing the ring ceremony which united their lives. They were attended by the sister and brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy LeFevre.

Green silk crepe with hat and accessories to match formed the bride's attire, while her matron of honor wore brown.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Prescott left for Madison, Wis., for a brief honeymoon, returning from which they will be at home on the Frank Sproul farm after March 1. They have many friends in this community who will unite in best wishes.

Table appointments were carried out in green and pink. The guests departed at a late hour, wishing their hostess many more happy birthdays.

"Ladies Of House" Want To Continue

(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—With many kettles on the boil, the "Ladies of the House," with one exception, want to continue their legislative cookery in Congress.

Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, will not run for reelection. She made that statement quietly, and with a little explanation as it was once made by a former President.

But all seven of the others are in the midst of plans for further law-making futures.

Two popular sisters with red hair appeared at a White House affair in matching gowns of green. The girl with lightest locks had a gown of nilé green velvet with a skirt trimmed with tulle, ruffles. The other, whose hair is darker red, was dressed in green crepe with long train.

McCormick, Republican, Illinois, will not try to succeed herself as a Congressman-at-Large. But that is because she is campaigning for a seat in the Senate. A train took her westward from Washington today for another speech-making whirl.

Representatives Katherine Langley, Republican, Kentucky, who succeeded her husband, and whose further candidacy had been somewhat in doubt, today definitely said she would be a candidate for re-election.

Back from making a keynote speech at a meeting of the Democrat State Committee in Jacksonville, Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, was all enthusiasm for the June primaries. She is ready to run again, basing her campaign on bills passed and bills pending. Ruth Baker Pratt, Republican, New York, frankly wants to come back to the House of Representatives and finish what she has begun.

Already veterans of three campaigns, Representative Mary Norton, Democrat, New Jersey; Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts; and Representative Florence P. Kahn, Republican, California, are planning to swing into the fourth with customary zest.

Spring Departed

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Cold and snow struck some parts of the middle west today while the forerunners of spring still reigned supreme in other districts.

Temperatures began to drop in the great plains yesterday after heat records of 42 years standing had been broken, elsewhere the warm temperatures of the past week prevailed.

As northern Wisconsin counties were snowed under, thunder, lightning and hail storms raged farther south. Four inches of rain fell at Eau Claire while lightning struck the home of Rollo Brown, set fire to the house and singed Mrs. Brown's hair. Another bolt struck a street car, dazed the motorman and threw passengers into a panic.

Near zero weather prevailed in North Dakota while in Illinois temperatures dropped from 60 to 32 degrees above zero.

Padded His Orders

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 26.—(UP)—Roy Sheldon, Broken Bow, Neb. salesman, began serving a 90-day jail sentence today on a charge of using the mails to defraud, to which he pleaded guilty in Federal court here yesterday.

Sheldon, father of seven children, admitted mailing false orders to the Wayne Nursery, Newark, N. J. The complaint was made by a Kankakee, Ill. resident who received four trees after ordering but two.

THE REALLY BIG NEWS

This is a winter of Big News. The headlines in your daily paper are weighty affairs, what with naval conferences, prohibition, tariff law changes, industrial developments and the like. There's a lot going on in the world, and most of it is pretty important.

Yet the newspapers, vigilant as they are, somehow fail to get the really big stories—the stories of real importance in the lives of ordinary folk.

What stories are those? Well, suppose that some morning when you picked up your paper you saw right next to the London naval conference story, a yarn like this:

"Tommy Jones, a 24-year-old clerk in the Cooper Manufacturing Company offices, has got a $5-a-week raise, and he figures that will just nicely make it possible for him to marry Alice Brown, who is a stenographer on the floor above him, sometime soon."

Or this:

"John Smith, who is 45 years old and has a wife and four kids and just manages to keep two jumps ahead of the sheriff, what with all his unpaid bills, taxes and insurance payments, got a look at the lamplight shining from the windows of his home when he returned from work last night and decided that it's a pretty nice old world after all. He'd seen the same thing often enough before, but some how, last night, it just struck him all at once that a snug home, a good wife and a few children are about all any man needs in this life. That lamplight, shining out through the dusk, looked mighty inviting."

Those stories would look funny on the front page, in between the stories about great statesmen and industrialists and scientists and so on, wouldn't they? Yet it is the little things, just like those, that are really the big things in the lives of most of us.

Nothing spectacular ever happens to us. The dividing line between happiness and unhappiness is determined by insignificant things. Sometimes a matter of an extra five bucks in the pay envelope can make the whole world look brighter; and sometimes it's even a littler thing than that—a brief, unexpected moment of vision, in which we discover that the small joys and unimportant rewards of every-day living are, after all, the moments that make life worth hanging on to.

Learning that lesson is the beginning of wisdom. There isn't any great triumph or high adventure in store for the most of us. We don't amount to much, from most standpoints, and we never shall. But that doesn't matter. We go along, from day to day, doing the same old jobs, seeing the same familiar faces; and little by little we realize that it's all tremendously worth while. The most ordinary sort of life can keep in touch with infinity.

Our stories don't get in the papers. But it's just as well. We know—and we are content.

THE VALUE OF PUBLICITY.

There is nothing so deadly to corruption and mismanagement in governmental affairs as publicity.

Chicago's financial mess dates back to favoritism and incompetence that prevailed in her tax assessments. For many years the assessments were kept secret; and so, though they were amazingly unequal and unjust, no one knew it, and those who were being fleeced never protested.

A couple of years ago, however, the State Tax Commission ordered the assessment published. And then the trouble came. Chicago citizens rose in wrath, and while the present period of bankruptcy is mighty unpleasant it will end in a much fairer, more efficient assessment and Chicago will be much better off.

Shady political exploits are always pulled off in the dark. If the light of publicity is kept shining all the time graft and incompetence can't get very far.

Maybe Congress ought to be adjourned for a while until they get this parrot fever under control.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Times hemmed and hawed a while. The boy then broke into a smile. "Don't be afraid of me," he said. "Why, I am glad you're here. I'm fond of little lads like you and there are things that we can do to have some fun, so there is not a thing that you need fear."

The others then heard Scouty say, "Well, we are glad you feel that way, but maybe you won't like us when you find what we have done. You see, we're little Tinymites, just out to play and see the sights. A little trick was playing on you while we were having fun."

The little boy replied, "Well, well! What was it, lads? You'd better tell. It may not make me mad at all, but we shall shortly see. I usually am a friendly sort and also quite a real good sport. I seldom mind it very much when folks play tricks on me."

So Scouty told him, right away. Said he, "While we were at our play we opened up that box of yours. Your crackers all jumped out. That's why we have a real good hunch that we have likely spoiled your lunch. Of course we all feel sorry now. Of that there is no doubt."

The boy laughed loud and also long. Said he, "Well, maybe that was wrong, but, gee, I think it's funny and I'm not the least bit mad. The animal crackers, I would say, were very wise to run away. I'm willing to forget it and I hope that makes you glad."

The Tinymites all jumped for joy and promptly thanked the little boy. Then Clowny said, "If you are going to leave, take us along." "Why, sure," replied the friendly lad. "Your joining me will make me glad." He hoisted Clowny to his back. Oh, my, but he was strong.

(The Tinymites help the boy build something in the next story.)

"BUFFALO BILL'S" BIRTH

On February 26, 1846, William F. Cody, American frontier scout and showman, known as "Buffalo Bill," was born in Scott county, Ia.

At the age of 14 young Cody became a rider of the "Pony Express," a service which carried mails from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Cal., 1950 miles, by means of relays of horseback riders. When this service was discontinued, Cody became a scout and guide for the U. S. army during the Civil War.

Cody was given his unique sobriquet "Buffalo Bill" in 1867, when he made a contract with the Kansas Pacific Railway to furnish its employees with buffalo meat while the line was being extended.

After serving in the Nebraska legislature he joined the army again at the outset of the Sioux-Cheyenne War of 1876. In one engagement he killed Yellow Hand, the Cheyenne chief, in a personal combat.

In 1883 he organized his famous "Wild West Show," which he toured his country and Europe.

He died at Denver, January 10, 1917.

KEEN CONTINUES HIS REPORTS OF SOVIET AFFAIRS

Says War On Religion Is Accepted With Pla-
cidity There

(Editor's Note—Following is the second of a series of articles by Ed L. Keen, vice president of the United Press for Europe, who is in Moscow to survey conditions and report on the anti-religious campaign there which has caused wide protests throughout the western world.)

BY ED L. KEEN

Moscow.—The constant war which soviet Russia is waging against religion is accepted here with utmost placidity, even by Russian church adherents.

While the entire outside world is agitated over the question of religious freedom within the Communist state there is a vast region which remains entirely calm, at least, outwardly—and that is the land under rule of the Soviets.

It must be supposed that millions of Russians who were accustomed to the great ceremonial of the Russian Catholic church were deeply resentful at the slights, discriminations and ridicule and even arrests and punishments on the basis of anti-Soviet activities, to which their spiritual leaders were subjected.

Resentment Inactive

Undoubtedly the summary closing of many houses of worship, the confiscation of church bells, and the fervid anti-religious carnivals and demonstrations were offensive to a considerable portion of the population, especially the older men and women. Any conclusion as to the attitude of the Russians toward atheism must be modified but the best information obtainable shows that this resentment—where it exists—rarely expresses itself in any form of active resistance.

The Soviet Dictatorship extends over one-sixth of the world and over 150,000,000 persons, but careful local observation and compilation of the opinions of both foreign and Russian investigators has failed to indicate any evidence of organized opposition to the religious issue anywhere in Russia.

In the urban centers new edicts curtailing activities of the church apparently are accepted as a matter of course.

In the vast farming area of the Soviets—an area which is now witnessing one of the world's great conflicts in the campaign for collectivization—there is admittedly a certain amount of violence against Soviet policies in the thousands of scattered and isolated villages. Perhaps there is even more of that passive resistance in which the Russian peasant is so adept, but there is almost none of this opposition directed specifically against the atheism campaign.

The real struggle centers on the attempt to bring Russia's vast farmlands into the collective system and to abolish private trading and such opposition—some of it intensely violent—which the Soviet meets is aroused by this campaign rather than by restriction of churches.

Started Christmas

The Christmas season, as the outside world was informed at great length, marked the beginning of a tighter and even more severe period in the Soviet campaign for collectivization of Russia, not by the slow process of economic revolution which has been known in other countries but by a sudden upheaval which would modernize and industrialize the nation in so short a period that success seems almost impossible.

Tightening of the collectivization machinery meant more rigorous application of all Communist principles including the war on religion. Atheist sources claimed that about 1,000 churches throughout the country had been converted to "useful" purposes—that is, to anything from a school room to a factory—during the Christmas season and the process is being continued.

But there are still 50,000 churches functioning in Russia with 30,000 priests officiating. The organization of a band of several thousand volunteer workers to tear down a once famous monastery is of more interest to the people of mid-western America than to the peasants who had lived within a stone's throw of the monastery all their lives. These things are merely accepted as part of the revolutionary things to which they have grown accustomed or they are hailed by those elements which demand restriction of churches as indications of the Soviet's progress.

There has been no reaction here to the agitation of the outside world against Russian atheist campaigns. There have been many yards of violent editorial comment in the Moscow press and the burden of this comment is that foreign protests on the religious question are merely a pretext to cover the vast combination which Communists believe is arising for political and economic opposition to the Soviet regime.

Dixon Youth Likes Life At Annapolis

Kenneth McLaren of this city who has entered the Annapolis Preparatory School, is getting settled to work and an extract of a letter received will be interesting to those who know him.

"I'm mighty glad I came and would not leave now if I could help it. They sure know how to teach things here, and have more short methods than I ever heard of. The problems are much more advanced than we had at high school and a lot harder. We have very little time and tons of work—for hours of math each day. Tonight after school my room-mate, from Spokane, Washington, and I watched eleven shells leave the dock. The Academy has fourteen shells and each cost over $5,000. The new racing shells cost $8,000. They are about sixty feet long and twenty inches wide at the widest place. A person can barely squeeze into the seats. The bows are like a knife and how they cover territory. When the crew pulls it looks just like one oar on each side.

We also watched the fishing and oyster boats come in three times. They look very pretty at a distance but are awfully dirty when seen close up—they don't look much like the yachts we used to see at Catalina.

We go over to the Academy every day—the more I see of it the better I like it. It's so darn big compared with anything else I've ever seen. The only thing else I can think of is the Grand Canyon. You could lose our high school in one building of the Academy. It has been 90 degrees all day today—swell weather—just like California.

CROUP NEED WATCHING

BY V. K. HART, M. D.
Charlotte, N. C.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

With the sharp changes of temperature in the Fall and Winter, appears the "croup" of little ones, and that is a warning to the parents on whom they must depend for aid.

The croupy cold often comes first. Here is a baby with the sniffles, a wheeze, a brassy, barking cough, and perhaps a little hoarseness. Just a cold, why worry about it? Because that croupy cough and wheeze will bear watching. "A little syrup of ipecac, a mustard plaster, and perhaps a croup tent will take care of that, and baby will be better in the morning?" If it is a simple croup or catarrhal infection of the larynx, baby always is better, for day gives no trouble.

But suppose baby is not only no better as morning comes, but worse. With each intake of breath there is a labored, high-pitched noise made by the air through a much obstructed wind pipe. The baby is blue or dusky. He tosses fretfully, sleeping only one or two minutes at a time. The pupils begin to dilate. The stomach dips away in as the baby tugs for air. There is practically complete loss of voice.

This is no ordinary croup. A competent throat specialist is needed at once. He has the instruments to look and see. Although possibly never seen in the throat, membrane is in the windpipe. Dreaded diphtheria is present, or membranous croup or another type of infection of the air passages giving identically the same picture. With expert care with plenty of anti-toxin given in time, and in competent hands, 75 to 80 per cent of these babies can be saved. Otherwise, the reverse 75 to 80 per cent die the horrible death of asphyxia.

These safety measures are suggested. By observing them you may save a life, and avoid hours of anxiety and much expense. 1. Have toxin-antitoxin given your baby at six to twelve months of age. 2. Call your family doctor when respiration becomes difficult. Do not wait until the baby's condition is desperate. He will call consultation if necessary. 3. Avoid chilling. 4. With the onset of a cold, use a few drops of 10 per cent argyrol in each side of the nose three times daily. Let it run into the throat.

CARLE D. BROWN, NATIONAL ADVERTISING MANAGER OF THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE, SAYS:

"What has become of Silas, with his boots, baggy trousers, coat too short, old straw hat, and his whiskers, and hayseed in his hair?"
"I'll tell you! Here he comes with a neat Hart, Steinbock & Kuppenheimer suit on, all pressed, a Stetson hat, Florsheim shoes and the latest in ties, shirts and socks. Looks like a Kansas City banker (or better) don't he?"

Do you remember when most anyone from a farm or 'country' town could be spotted instantly by their clothes? Sure—some twenty or more years ago. And the city slicker could as easily be recognized by his style.

But who can tell 'em apart now!

The small town has its stores with up-to-the-minute merchandise—the same kind of radios, top coats, gloves, shirts and luggage sold in large cities, and its workmen, farmers and business men are smartly tailored and well-groomed.
"And, by the way, the old 'hick' town is just about gone where Silas has 'went'. Across the country by motor or train or plane you can see small cities, smart, clean, bright, with concrete pavements, stores with fine fronts, parks and well-kept lawns that bespeak prosperity.

"And these citizens—well, they know all about the latest talkies, the newest styles, best books, songs, and the latest word in how to serve dinners and play golf.

"Silas may wear boots and overalls when he works, but when he comes to town he rides in a modern car and both his wife and himself look like the average well-dressed folks you see in New York, Seattle, Tulsa, Des Moines or Salt Lake City.

THREE IMPORTANT FACTORS ENTER INTO THE COST OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

1. How much it costs to make the car
2. How much extra you pay the dealer
3. How much it costs for operation and up-keep

THE PURCHASE of an automobile involves a considerable amount of money and it should be carefully considered from all angles before a final decision is made.

The value of the car to you depends on the value built into it at the factory, how much extra you pay the dealer for distribution, selling, financing and accessories and what it will cost to operate and maintain the car after purchase. Each of these factors, as it relates to the Ford car, is frankly explained below.

Economy in production

THE FORD CAR is made economically because of the efficiency of Ford production methods. The money saved through this efficiency is put back into the car in improved quality of material and in greater care and accuracy in manufacturing. The constant effort is to eliminate waste and find ways to make each part better and better without increasing cost—frequently at lowered cost.

Because of Ford economies in large production and because the Ford organization operates on a low-profit margin, the price you pay for the car is much less than it would be under any other conditions. Yet it brings you many unusual features of construction and performance.

At least $75 extra value is represented alone by the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, and the five steel-spoke wheels. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are additional features that reflect the high quality built into every part of the car. Throughout, it is a value far above the price you pay.

Low dealer charges

THE SAME PRINCIPLES of efficiency and economy that characterize the manufacture of the Ford car are applied also to distribution. Obviously it would do the public little good to save in production if these savings were sacrificed later in excessive costs of selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, operates on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company, his discount or commission being the "lowest of any automobile dealer. He does a good business because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

NOTE THESE LOW PRICES

Roadster . . .	$435
Phaeton . . .	$440
Coupe . . .	$500
Two-window Fordor Sedan . . .	$600
Three-window Fordor Sedan . . .	$625
Cabriolet . . .	$645
Town Sedan . . .	$670

(All prices f. o. b. Detroit)

Low charges for time payments through the Universal Credit Company

The lower cost of selling, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, means a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser of a Ford, in addition to the savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. The money you pay for a Ford goes into value in the car. It is not wasted in high dealer charges.

Low up-keep costs

IT IS IMPORTANT to remember that the cost of your automobile is not the first cost only, but the total cost after months and years of service. Here again there is a decided saving when you buy a Ford.

The cost of operation and up-keep is lower because of simplicity of design, the high quality of material, and the reduction of friction and wear through unusual accuracy in manufacturing and assembling. The reliability and longer life of the car contribute to its low depreciation per year of use.

The intelligent, painstaking service rendered by Ford dealers is under close factory supervision and is a factor in the low up-keep cost of the Ford. All labor is billed at a flat rate and replacement parts are always available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the United States.

In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost of the car.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

OLD ROMANCE IS REVEALED IN AN ESTATE CLAIMS

Is Entwined With Misfortunes and Searches and Successes

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—In 1852, back in Granard, Ireland, John Flynn, a Sergeant in the revenue service in Dublin whom George IV had commended for bravery, married Henrietta Goodfellow, daughter of a Captain of Royal Fusiliers.

The Captain, engaged, objected to the marriage, the bride couple fled to Liverpool with the captain in pursuit. A vessel was at dock; it sailed before the Captain arrived; the Flynn came to America.

Yesterday, in a Montana home, a dead, two aging orphaned brothers, John and James Butler, reunited after 32 years, discussed coming to Chicago to claim the $200,000 estate left by the two sons of the Flynn who fled from Ireland 78 years ago.

The years between are entwined with misfortune and orphanages, family bibles and hermits, searches and success.

Two years after the Flynn came to America and Chicago, Mrs. Flynn's sister, Charlotte, married to Alfred Butler, in Ireland, emigrated westward across the ocean.

The Flynn settled on a farm near Park Ridge, a Chicago suburb; the Butlers went downstate to Tuscola.

Three sons and a daughter were born to the Flynn. The girl died and the brothers inherited the farm, living in seclusion thereon and avoiding the neighbors who called them misers. Edward Flynn died in 1920, James and John, the two brothers lived on.

In December, 1926, John died from pneumonia at the age of 72; James, 70, waited until the physician had signed the death certificate and then shot himself to death. A fortune in currency was hidden about the house, the whole estate amounting to around $200,000.

Several sets of distant cousins have claimed the estate; their family bibles all attested the marriage of Charlotte to Alfred Butler, but in fact there was no issue.

But in Tuscola, the Butlers had reared four children. The mother died in 1864; the father placed the four children in a Chicago orphanage.

Two died after adoption; James left when a small boy, wandered for several years, settled in Bird City, Kan., married and fathered four children. John was adopted and taken west, he came at last to a Montana homestead.

John C. Vanek was employed to settle up the Flynn estate.

He went to Tuscola; there, in the tree-dotted little cemetery on the east edge of the small city, he found an aged man at the grave of Charlotte Butler; it was James, who had come back to his mother after 65 years.

They found traces of James' brother, John; to Montana they went; and there the two brothers were reunited. They informed Vanek today they would come here soon to claim the estate.

Unique "Court" Established In New York Church

By ADELAIDE KERR Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A court dependent solely upon the principle of "good will" to achieve results has undertaken solution of the marital and other difficulties of baffled New Yorkers.

Founded by the Community Church on Park Avenue, it has no legal standing, no jurors and no lawyers. The court convenes weekly with new judges for each session.

The court room was a small study in the rear of the church. The bench, an ordinary mahogany desk. The judges, who serve without pay, were Dr. Leslie Leubers, psychiatrist of the Mental Hygiene Clinic; Rabbi Sydney Goldstein and Edmond S. Hawley of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company.

The first complainant was a little woman who nervously twisted a wedding ring about her finger as she told how her husband left her seven years ago after constant quarrels over the bobbing of her hair and the kind of clothes she wore.

When she fell ill because of constant quarreling, she said her doctor decreed she either must separate from her husband or the dissension must cease, and her husband had left in anger.

"What do you want to do, Mrs. X?" asked a judge.

"I want him to come back! And if he won't do that, I want him to pay for my doctor, so I can get well and get a job. I've been just sort of hanging on and trying to keep our house together so his chair and things would be there when he came back."

The judges, deliberating on her case after she had been sent from the room, decided to attempt to bring her husband to the good will court and effect a reconciliation.

Other cases were called. There was Miss Y, who said that "enemies" who feared she would tell police of a speakeasy in the house where he lived had secured her removal to the psychopathic ward of a hospital, where she had been pronounced suffering from dementia praecox. She said that she now had no legal standing because she had been declared insane that she could no longer get work as a professional accompanist and asked that she be advised of a way by which she could be judged sane.

The judges referred her to a psychopathic clinic for examination.

Last came a mechanic, who had been injured in an automobile collision in the garage where he worked. He asked greater compensation than the eighteen dollars a week which, he said, he was receiving, on the grounds that he couldn't support a wife and three children on that amount and was now unable to work.

TARDIEU TO TRY TO FORM FRENCH CABINET TODAY

Chautemps' Government is Defeated On First Vote Requested

Paris, Feb. 26.—(AP)—With the Chautemps Cabinet down in ruins, President Doumergue today entrusted the task of forming a new Cabinet to Andre Tardieu, who will seek to form a wide union cabinet with the aid of Raymond Poincare.

The President first called in Tardieu this morning and asked him to form a ministry, but Tardieu refused and suggested former Premier Poincare, offering to take a port-folio under him which would include his returning to the London naval conference which has been marking time pending solution of the French Cabinet crisis.

Poincare, however, also refused the post, pleading that his health would be wrecked if he took the reins now before his strength was restored. He advised President Doumergue to insist on Tardieu serving as the new Premier.

Begin Consultation. Later Poincare announced on leaving the Elysee Palace that Tardieu had been charged with the mission of forming a new Cabinet and that he would begin consultations at the Poincare residence this afternoon.

Formation of a wide union cabinet appears to offer the "only possible solution of the present deadlock inasmuch as the Chamber of Deputies now has defeated in turn a government with right leanings and one with left leanings.

After last night's overthrow of the Chautemps cabinet by fifteen votes on its first appearance in the Chamber, Tardieu was marked by President Doumergue as the obvious choice.

The former Premier, if successful, will return to London to resume the naval negotiations where they were broken off nine days ago when his Cabinet met a five vote defeat in the Chamber of Deputies on a minor budget issue.

TO DECIDE PROGRAM London, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald today asked Henry L. Stimson, Reirjo Wakatsuki and Dino Grandi, Italian Foreign Minister, to meet him at the House of Commons at 3.30 P. M., to discuss the latest developments surrounding the fall of the Chautemps government and its effect on the London naval conference.

The American delegation went into session in the morning, at its headquarters in the Ritz Hotel.

British circles understood the conference probably would proceed, regardless of the French crisis; and that no second adjournment would be taken by the conference. Other quarters, however, believed it probable that the conference would halt its negotiations until a new French delegation arrives in London.

David Barry, the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, says that no special precautions have been taken since the receipt of the letters. Access to the Senate chamber is always carefully guarded by doorkeepers and their number has not been increased.

WOUNDED BANDIT SOUNDS TOCSIN OF NEW BATTLE

Won't be Popgun War, Either, McErlane Tells Police

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The wounded Frank McErlane, "the tough one," lay today with three bullet wounds in his body and sounded the tocsin of a new gang war.

From his sick bed at the home of his mother where he was removed last night—police having no charge on which to hold him—McErlane said:

"The war is on—and it won't be any popgun war!"

McErlane, credited with having conceived the death strategy known as "the ride," is recovering from an attempt upon his life. The attack was made Monday night at a hospital where McErlane, under an alias was being treated for a bullet wound which he claimed was accidentally inflicted. His assailants stood at the door of the hospital room, emptied their pistols and fled when McErlane, armed with a pistol, had concealed under his pillow.

"Never mind who shot me," he said when police questioned him last night. "I'll take care of myself. McErlane takes care of McErlane. Remember the next time you find some dead in a ditch, like a sieve. Remember what happened to—never mind."

Efforts of police to keep McErlane in custody failed when the State's Attorney said there was no evidence on which he could be held. All he had done was to defend himself against attack, police were advised.

Detectives are looking for Joe Salts—McErlane's former partner in the beer business—, Danny McFall, Eddie and George Kauffman and Danny Stanton, all with reputations in south side beer wars of the past.

Senators Laugh At Threatened Bombs

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Lots of laughter and a little uneasiness make up the Senate's response to a series of threatening letters recently received by several of its members.

Most of the Senators are inclined to regard the missives as the work of some harmless crank and scoff at the possibility of danger. One member, however, grew apprehensive at a letter threatening to toss bombs into the Senate chamber and suggested that several buckets of water be kept at hand for this emergency.

Vice President Curtis, Republican Leader Watson and Senator Copeland are among those who have received letters. Copeland's warned him to stay away from the Senate for a couple of weeks. Senator Watson laughed and tossed his letter into a wastebasket.

However, most of the epistles have been turned over to the Department of Justice for investigation, and there is some evidence at the Capitol of the activities of its agents.

David Barry, the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, says that no special precautions have been taken since the receipt of the letters. Access to the Senate chamber is always carefully guarded by doorkeepers and their number has not been increased.

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer
Miami, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—The sixty-six ton whale that has been on exhibition along Biscayne Boulevard gives way tomorrow as an attraction to a mere ton of heavyweights.

With not a great deal more to be said about the proceedings, ten assorted big fellows of the ring, from five countries, representing eight nationalities, will be tossed into the arena tomorrow evening in the second annual battle of the Palms. They will be put on view by the Madison Square Garden Corporation, in winter headquarters here.

Most of those who motor out to the wooden arena expect to see the American, Jack Sharkey, flatten the British heavyweight, Phil Scott, in a main event billed for 15 rounds and not expected to go beyond three or four by a substantial quorum of experts.

Attractive Card.

An extraordinarily attractive card of five international bouts has drawn a big influx of the faithful. The semi-final between the 230-pound Argentine, Victorio Campolo, and rubbery John Risko of Cleveland, has aroused keen speculation, with the South American ruling a slight favorite. Other entertainment is expected from the bouts pitting Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion, against the Belgian, Pierre Charles, and Jimmy Maloney, Boston veteran, against Bouquillon of France.

The Sharkey-Scott match is one of the last of the long-drawn-out series of heavyweight eliminations, the winner of which is slated to box Max Schmeling of Germany for the world's championship at New York in June.

The prospects today were that between 25,000 and 35,000 will pay upwards of $200,000 to witness the show. Frank J. Bruen, General Manager of Madison Square Garden, and his box office experts were optimistic that the gate would pass $300,000. This would insure a substantial profit.

Speculation over the outcome of the main bout was centered principally upon how long it will take Sharkey to win.

3 To 1 Favorite.
A 3 to 1 favorite right along, Sharkey appeared likely to enter the ring at 5 to 1, with no takers. Most of the wagering has been on the length of the fight, with a consensus favoring about four as the limit. Sharkey has looked every part of a champion in training. Scott is a slow starter and may be an early mark for Sharkey's rushes, if the American is in the mood for one of his savage attacks. His training has indicated he is. On the other hand, if Scott can weather the first few rounds, he conceivably may have a chance to make it close or at the very outside win on points. His manager, Jimmy Johnston, is the only one whom thinks the Briton has the punch to knock Sharkey down.

If Scott could fight the way his manager can converse there might be no question of the outcome. Jimmy spent the best part of a week squawking about the ring regulations and wound up yesterday with a concession from Referee Lou Magnolia that he would look inquiringly at Johnston before stopping Scott from receiving further punishment. Magnolia, however, will be unhampered in any decision he sees fit to make under the authority given him by the Miami Boxing Commission.

Baseball Gossip

Associated Press Sports Writer

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Feb. 26—(AP)—Only four abbreviated practices have been held since the championship Cubs pitched their spring training camp on Catalina Island, yet one of the biggest question marks in Manager Joe McCarthy's mind appears answered favorably.

"Gaby" Hartnett's throwing arm, limp throughout the 1929 campaign, seems as good as ever.

Ever since the husky Cub catcher threw his arm out in practice a year ago, it was reasonably feared by everyone acquainted with the muscular reaction of a throwing arm that Hartnett was through. But "Gaby," a big fellow with grit and determination to come back, doctor and trained all winter and now asserts his salary wing is "right."

One worry the Cubs still have is that Hartnett, eager to impress his mates with his comeback, will throw his arm limp. That was the cause of his trouble last spring. His first practice saw him burning 'em down to second. It wasn't long before his wing was broken.
Hartnett's return to form and duty

Camera Catches Giants in Training Camp

John McGraw's New York Giants wasted no time in getting down to business on their arrival in the San Antonio training camp. The layout pictures the McGraws working out winter kinks, if any, under the Texas sun. Top, at the left, shows Giant moundsmen developing wind on a jog around the park. Below, Joe Genewich, Fred Fitzsimmons and Bill Walker, regular hurlers, unlimber their salary wings. At the right is Dave Bancroft, McGraw aid, fungo-hitting.

is about the only spark the Cubs believe they require, next to a good left handed pitcher to make a romp to another championship.

There are two or three members of the Cubs pitching staff who believe they are certain of a better year with the big fellow back of the plate.

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—Despite Connie Mack's liking for left handed pitchers, there is only one rookie southpaw working with the champion Athletics, Alfred Mahon, a semi-pro from Nebraska.

Photographed for the talkies beside Ehmkke and Rommel while they took unearned easy pitches to Mickey Cochrane, Mack said:

"On my right is Ehmkke, the pitcher who won the first game of the world series with Chicago. Besides myself apparently only one other man in the country picked Ehmkke to pitch the first game and moreover win it. That was a man in Texas who bet $400 to $4,000 that Ehmkke would pitch and win the first game. That fellow collected as everybody knows. The other pitcher is Eddie Rommel, the boy wonder, who pitched in the seventh inning of the fourth game and received credit for the victory. He tells me he will pitch more than one inning in the next series."

New Orleans, Feb. 26—(AP)—Carl Lind, the Cleveland Indians sparkling second baseman of 1928, has arrived at camp two weeks ahead of schedule fully recovered from the intestinal ailment which kept him off form last season.

The likewise early arrival of Outfielder Eddie Morgan, and demonstration that all the battersmen present excepting Joe Shaute are in the best of condition boosted the Tribe's optimism. Shaute rested a tender shoulder all winter and needs plenty of exercise.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—A big fellow leaped longingly over the wire fence behind which the Red Sox were having their first workout of the training season. Then he walked in and asked for "Mistah Bob."
In less time than it takes to tell,

Big Ed Morris, pride of the lowly Red Stocking mound staff, was signing on the dotted line, a holdout no longer. Big Ed's surrender leaves only catcher Johnny Heving holding out and he's expected to climb over that wire fence any time now.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—The Boston Braves have taken to their new manager, Bill McKee, with great gusto. He toiled on the mound for the first batting practice of the season yesterday and base hits rattled all over the field.

Two of the three holdouts, Pitchers Ben Cantwell and Ed Brandt, came to terms and Pitcher Johnny Cooney promised to sign later in the week.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—A dozen faces were missing when the St. Louis Browns started the annual limbering up exercises here yesterday but "Billy the Red" Killerfe, Manager, was not alarmed. He declared they were only struggling in and the full complement of 22 who were scheduled to take part in the first workout would be here in a day or so.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 26—(AP)—Coach "Lena" Blackburne, who last year was Manager of the Chicago White Sox and "sparring partner" for Arthur (Whitman) Shires, was moaning the loss of a pocketbook today. Among other items was $50 cash.

"I came a long way to lose that," he commented, "this being my first trip to Florida in 23 years of baseball."

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26—(AP)—Manager Donie Bush of the hopeful Chicago White Sox, has graduated his early squad from conditioning work into the technical end of baseball.

The pitchers yesterday were given a lesson in the art of covering first base. Sergeant George Connolly, relief pitcher, arrived yesterday.

Paso Robles, Cal., Feb. 26—(AP)—Max Carey assumed the role of Fagin in the Pirate training camp here today, as he gathered rookies

ROBINS' OUTLOOK FOR COMING RACE IS MUCH ROSIER

The Termination of Internal Warfare May Aid Robbie's Team

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Feb. 26—(UP)—New talent acquired by the Brooklyn Club and a settlement of the internal warfare among the owners promise to aid the Robins in their battle to get back into first division in the National League after five successive years in sixth place.

With peace restored and Wilbert Robinson relieved of the presidency and free to devote all of his attention to managing the team, many changes for the better are expected in the Robins.

Foremost among the 17 new players are Second Baseman Neal Finn and Shortstop Gordon Slade, recently purchased from the Mission Pacific Coast League club, for a reported sum of $50,000. Slade batted .347 last season and Finn .302.

Major league scouts, who have seen the pair in action, believe there is a good chance for them to emulate the feat of Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig, who made good around the keystone sack with the Yankees in the first season in the majors.

Promising Pitchers.
Among the eight new pitchers are three of considerable promise. They are Jim Blithen, recalled from the Atlanta Southern League club, where he won 18 games and lost 8; Ray Phelps, a 200-pounder who won 23 games and lost 11 for the Jacksonville Southeastern League Club; and Hollis Thurston, who won 22 and lost 11 for the San Francisco Pacific Coast League club.

Thurston comes back to the majors after trials with Washington and the Chicago White Sox. He is a hard hitter and also can play first base or the outfield.

Adolfo Luque, veteran obtained from Cincinnati in a trade for Buzz McWeeny, is expected to do valuable work in a relief role.

Other newcomers to the pitching staff are Jimmy Faulkner, a southpaw, who had a trial with the Giants and who won 16 and lost 13 for the Buffalo International League club last season; John Krider, Louis Newsum and Jimmy Richardson from the Macon Sally League club. None of per decision over Lou Terry, St. Louis, 125.

Hartford, Conn.—Bat Battalino retained his world featherweight championship in a hard fought bout here last night by winning a decision over Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino. Battalino won eight of the ten rounds.

The Filipino took all that Battalino could give. He landed many blows that shook the champion. Early in the fight Battalino slipped as the Filipino landed a hard one and took the count of nine.

Battalino weighed 129½; Fernandez 127½.

Good Hold Overs.

Holdovers for the pitching staff are Bill Clark, Clise Dudley, James Elliott, Kent Greenheid, Austin

Moore, Johnny Morrison, Ray Moss, Luther Roy and Dazzy Vance.

Al Lopez, recalled from the Atlanta club, where he batted .327 and caught 142 games, is booked for a regular catching berth. The other catchers are Hank DeBerry and Val Picinich, both veterans.

The makeup of the infield is extremely uncertain, what with Del Bissonette recovering from three operations during the winter. D'Arcy Flowers' health none too good and Glenn Wright's arm dubious.

If Finn and Slade live up to expectations, the infield may consist of Bissonette at first, Finn at second, Slade or Wright at short and Gilbert at third. If Wright's arm is well, he most surely will play short.

Other infielders are Jackie Warner, who batted .279 for the Toledo American Association club; Bob Reis, who batted .373 last year and Eddie Moore, bought from Toledo in mid-season last year.

Brooklyn has eight outfielders, four of the newcomers. The old group includes Babe Herman, Ray Bressler, Harvey Hendrick and Johnny Frederick.
The new group includes Max West, recalled from the Newark International League club where he batted .333; Joe Vance, who batted .325 for the Rocky Mount club; Hal Lee, who batted .341 for Atlanta; and Bobby Parham, who batted .319 for Atlanta.

With the Cagers

Chicago, Feb. 26—(AP)—Purdue's undefeated Big Ten basketball record tonight will be the target of Northwestern's erratic sharpshooters, at Lafayette.

Northwestern was out to do everything possible to place the league leaders in an embarrassing position. A defeat at the hands of Northwestern would leave Purdue in a spot where the Michigan game Monday night at Ann Arbor, would be crucial.

Michigan, which last night scored its second victory of the season over Chicago, rates an even chance of tripping Purdue and gaining a tie for first place, should the Boilermakers also bow to Northwestern.

The Wolverines found Chicago no more difficult than when they won at Chicago three weeks ago. Michigan turned in a 30 to 15 decision, and went back into a tie with Wisconsin for second place.

ASSOCIATION IS SEEKING BETTER PLAN FOR GAMES

Creation Of Eight New Tourney Districts May Be Outcome

BY ROBERT R. OVERAKER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Feb. 26—(UP)—The Illinois High School Athletic Association has been making another critical examination of its method of running off basketball tournaments, and in the steps it has taken to correct defects existing therein, will harvest some friendly growth. The upshot probably will be the creation of eight new district centers to add to the 56 now existing for a new total of 64.

The perfect state basketball tournament, and one which Manager G. W. Whitten of the association probably dreams about but never hopes to see, would have eight or 16 teams to a district, 64 districts and eight finalists.

Such an ideal joust would find that any team at any stage of the elimination process would have played just as many games as its opponent. No team would reach the second round of a district through the good fortune of a bye, giving it an unfair advantage over an opponent with the physical handicap of having had a hard contest 24 hours earlier. The only way to advance from one round to another would be to win a game.

That state of affairs never will be reached in the district tournaments. Some of them can be balanced with eight or 16 teams, but the impossibility of limiting the number of entrants in such a Democratic affair as the Illinois tournament will prevent doing it in all districts.

If it can't be done in the district it can be done in the sectionals. The 1929 tournament saw seven teams in each of the sectional affairs, a condition which was not displeasing to the coaches of the seventh teams who got into the semi-finals without a much as one free throw. This year the association decided to raise the number of contestants in each sectional to eight, allowing the same perfect schedule as is used in the final play, which also has eight entrants.

The Czars of the Ihsaa made the decision too late to provide eight additional district champions, so they adopted the expedient of pinning lucky number on one of the eight runners-up in each sectional's district play and letting that team tie to the sectional play despite its defeat.

The chances are the protest against this plan will reach such force that it won't be used again. The association got around the unfairness of seven teams to a sectional, but the circumventing was done by ignoring the Cardinal rule of elimination tournament play which is that one defeat puts you out.

The unpopularity of the "lucky number" plan being self-evident, the association can put the sectionals on an ideal schedule basis in only one other way—raising the number of districts to 64. Enough suitable gymnasiums are on hand to do so there's no obstacle.

Where Avalanche of Coal Killed Five in New York

This jumbled mass of wreckage was believed to be a tomb for six to ten who may have been buried alive—in addition to five killed outright—when 900 tons of coal spilled from two collapsed steel pockets in a New York company's shed. Here you see workmen digging for men who were missing after the avalanche, while doctors stand by with first aid kits. Two men were removed seriously injured from the wreckage soon after the

MR. WM. B. DARY.

"I suffered for ten years with my stomach and kidneys," said Mr. Wm. B. Dary, 320 North Second street, Quincy, Ill. "Bloating and gas pains followed every meal, no matter how little I ate. This was followed by dizziness, shortness of breath and often awful headaches. Finally I became nervous and my general health was fast falling. My bladder was weak and this interfered with my rest at night."

"I had tried so many medicines that I had little faith in any of them but decided to give Konjola a chance. It was a wise decision. Three bottles of this splendid medicine ended my troubles. Indigestion pains passed away and now I eat what I wish without discomfort. The kidney pains and bladder weakness are gone. My bowels have been regulated and my nerves are calm. Konjola gave me new health and new outlook on life."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

SLOWLY the big car, which looked black in the darkness, made its way along West Twelfth street. The driver peered at each house as he passed. He was hunting for a street number and this was difficult because part of the houses were not lighted.

The limousine hesitated, and then moved forward. Before the next house the chauffeur brought the car to a halt. He swung to the pavement.

"This is the place, sir," he said, opening the door of the tonneau. From the driver's tone it was evident that he did not approve of the neighborhood.

Arthur Knight stepped out on the sidewalk.

"Wait until I come back," he directed. "I don't know how long that will be."

"Yes sir."

Knight glanced up at the building, then hurried up the steps and rang the bell.

A woman opened the door.

"Does Daniel Cameron live here?" Knight asked.

"Yes sir."

"I'd like to speak to him. Knight is my name."

"I'll see if Mr. Cameron is in," the woman said. She stepped back, opening the door wider for Knight to enter. Then she

SCHOOL NOTES

The school nurse visited school this week end examined all the pupils present. She will make an effort to examine those who were absent that day when she comes next Friday.

A dental clinic will be held soon at which Dr. Carnahan of Paw Paw will inspect the teeth of the school children. Children sometimes get the impression that a dental clinic is for the purpose of pulling teeth. They should be told that the dentist by examination may find conditions which will cause much pain and possible loss of teeth later on. This pain is unnecessary if the teeth are properly looked after and the dentist will probably point out ways in which it can be avoided. Dr. Carnahan and the nurse will be at the school Friday morning if the weather and roads permit. Parents are invited to talk with either or both at that time.

Compton High school won its fourth game out of the last five Friday evening when they again defeated Lee Center. The score of this game was 29-23. Compton took an early lead and stretched it until at one time the score was 16-6. Late in the game Lee Center seemed to find the basket and brought their score up. Ikens of Lee Center was the individual star of the game and Mireley's basket shooting for the local boys was good. Those who played for Compton were C. Chaon, Risley, Mireley, W. Chaon, Archer, Craddock, Grosshans and Brucker. The team plays Steward here Wednesday evening in the last home game of the season for the high school. Hoopole is met at Dixon, Wednesday, March 5.
